Feedback on "Atlantis Secret" Target, extra target

TASKER WROTE:

The way this TRN came to me was very weird, just floating into my view first thing in the morning, on my birthday. Maybe it was a gift. When I look at 100 9177 001, to me it looks like a symbol, a corporate logo from a billion years ago, like the ancient Sumerian Annunaki symbol of the disk with wings. So I wasn't surprised that you saw something similar in the number. I gathered that the target was an alien megastructure, very ancient, and not easily understood by human minds. I don't know why it was built, but it does not want to be psychically scrutinised. I got the feeling that it would take 10 years to understand this target. It didn't seem to be close by, but felt far away in another dimension. And I don't want to sketch it right now. Perhaps, over time, this target will allow itself to be seen.

ANITA WROTE:

No this target is not to be seen, the lady guide made it clear to me that I was not to reveal the location. They seemed to trust me to show me and guide me but it was clear that it is secret.

Yes it goes back millions of years and involves two ancient alien populations, one is the benevolent one that lives through the gold gate, the other is the warring one.

I'm glad I got some RV correlation on the session, I mean for all we know the target number could have been just a picture of a shoe and I just went on a massive trip spanning millions of years and hundreds of miles to alien civilizations and other worlds.

The number is very special and looks like this: MGST-100-100-9177-001> And the symbols at the end of the TRN KEY means that it feels to me like a cuttlefish mind, very skittish and very clever, it's definitely hovering in an inter-dimensional limbo, or parked there, and time flows for it and it's fine, never aging. We need new machines to help us find this one. I will pray for our species to be blessed by enough wisdom, and that a design sequence of learning machines is inspired and unfolds to assist us in navigating towards this target.

For some reason, that TRN KEY does not look quite right. I've got another database for Megastructures built by Unknown where I've placed the hypothesised megastructure around Tabitha's Star. And I'm thinking that perhaps this "functionary" that we glimpse in hyperspace should go into a new database for Inter-dimensional Alien Megastructures, with an 8 for an infinity sign indicating infinite possibilities in a location. These infinities eventually coalesce into one reality, denoting where and when the creature is sitting, so I'm not too worried about expanding viewing options. And it's enormous, just hidden. So let's have a look at this new TRN KEY: IDAM8-A-1009177001-✦✦ That looks somewhat better and I can see it easier now that it's key has been calibrated.
