Session Summary:

There is a tunnel with water, river or stream or path, and our element is moving upstream along the path. The central element is a golden orange box which also has a tunnel shape. The orange element has got a red tongue and several black spikes around it possibly teeth. I have seen two nostrils many times, there is regular exhaling and inhaling, the exhales sound like snorting sounds. I hear people calling at a distance, and there is the sound of bird song from inside the golden orange tunnel. A string is attached to the orange element and the element can be pulled straight up. The orange element also contains air. We are floating on water or flying or both.

Aerial view of Grand Prismatic Spring; Hot Springs, Midway & Lower Geyser Basin, Yellowstone National Park. The spring is approximately 250 by 300 feet (75 by 91 m) in size. This photo shows steam rising from hot and sterile deep azure blue water (owing to the light absorbing overtone of an OH stretch which is shifted to 698 nm by hydrogen bonding) in the center surrounded by huge mats of brilliant orange algae, bacteria and archaea. The color of which is due to the ratio of chlorophyll to carotenoid molecules produced by the organisms. During summertime the chlorophyll content of the organisms is low and thus the mats appear orange, red, or yellow. However during the winter, the mats are usually dark green, because sunlight is more scarce and the microbes produce more chlorophyll to compensate, thereby masking the carotenoid colors.
