What comes to mind is farm equipment and farm. We are on a grass hill, there is a man with a straw hat or he is a scarecrow type of man. There are wheels and cogwheels that turn around. There is like a pile of yellow straw on the right, to the right of them the straw sits against a low thin wall with nothing behind it. The gray barrel in the background is wider at bottom and narrower to the top and it contains liquid water and it has a windmill cogwheel type of thing that rotates slowly on the top. Above the big blue cogwheel or tire on the left is green bush like palmtree leaves. Something is covered by a thin red covering which sits not directly against it but just above with a slight gap in between that which is beneath it, it reminds me of those arched metal covers that sit above some car tires for protection against mud I think it is, the red continues to become a curved orange shape, this structure with the big tire could be part of a truck or a tractor like a farm equipment. The yellow hay is also covered by a green curved cover. Gray not tall wall goes into-page and then leftward in the background behind the hill of the foreground. There is also some patches of brown soil amidst the green grass. The grass is of medium length and is succulent and fresh. There is a strong nature presence in the report, with the grass and also yellow straw and the palmleaf type of green, there is also technical equipment and cogwheels or tires, could be a farm with a windmill and a tractor.

I create the target PDF, two decoy PDFs, and do matching all without delay.

Matching: I eliminate the sofa right away. I must say, the image with the log house in the forest is a wonderful RV image, it would be so much fun to RV! The image of the log house has a human in a strawhat. It has a hill with grass and soil. It looks like it could have a farmland feel to it. The image with the sculpture has a similar feel as the technical components I was sensing, and the palm leaves are there, it also has some posts with interesting tops perhaps similar to the white post I drew with the cogwheel at the top. I choose the image of the sculpture with the palmtrees. I suspect a merge here again, of only the sculpture and the log house pictures, the sofa may have formed the red curved cover also but that is a bit less obvious.

Outcome: The target was the sofa, I chose a decoy. This is a very interesting outcome that I will have to think more about.
