Today March 8, 2019

Start 11:15 PM

This session follows directly after the previous failed session, which is not good protocol, but I want to do this anyway. I will try to cover the five pictures of this session.

Ok great, I have managed to see the gray box but not the five pictures.

This one has green bushy forests and is very fluffy and green. There is a spatula shaped expanding architectural form diagonally leaning inward in the picture, I will draw it. It then has a portion from its nose that is inward in the picture that rises up from there (drawn to the side in brown but actually rising upward). It is like a beak. There are two blue marbles on top of it. The base of this structure is flat and wide, and it feels like a lifeform.

11:22 PM I will look at the five pictures.

NO WAY IF IT IS THE GRAPES!!!

Ok calm down now. The options are the indoors interior of a kitchen in brown woods... the grapes... man on a kayak on some rough waters with cliffs, an oncoming train with the snow, and the interior of a bedroom. I jump immediately and press on my beloved grapes picture!

? How weird, how could it be the bedroom? I mean, I had the blue round grapes on it and all? Is this the switching phenomenon? I mean, I had the grapes, I had the two blue spheres against all that green.

I think I am still not fit enough to do RV because I've been having a flu and the effort stage is difficult, even here I was not probing the elements that I found I was just hoping to find one of the pictures to be similar... and did.

No remote viewing while having a flu. I will resume to these targets later.

11:26 PM End session. No feedback analysis because I think my report was similar to the grapes and the target was the bedroom.
