Start 5:15 PM

Soft. Fluffy, expanding up to the right like a smoke or cloud.

How do I catch the signal of the future picture that is instead of the gray box? Do I imagine there being a picture there in the future? A rounded shape that curves toward the back. Brown, beige, white gray colors, pale weak colors. A cloud. Soft.

5:18 PM I look at the five pictures now already, since I need to figure out HOW to work with this protocol, instead of trying to do a good effort and detailed work. Once I know HOW then I can put in more detailed work. I can use the initial impressions to see if I am on the right track, and if I am not on the right track then it is meaningless to put in effort.

One fighter plane white steel with sharp thin shapes against a blue sky.

One surfer in yellow red wetsuit on a surfboard surfing an ocean wave.

ICE-CREAM! FOR THE WHOLE YEAR I HAVE BEEN DOING RV I HAVE BEEN WANTING A TARGET THAT WAS ICE-CREAM!

Firefighter facing toward a fire in the background.

One open halved kiwi fruit with red strawberries around it.

The colors and shapes remind me of the ice-cream. I will not do a secondary probing stage on this session.

Yes! It was the ice-cream! I chose the correct image! I finally got a target that was ice-cream!

Feedback stage: The colors were very good in my initial impressions, and the shapes of the cloudy with several rounded, and then the one good strong round shape that I drew. The drawing looks a lot like this picture! But you know what? I am most of all happy... THAT I FINALLY GOT A TARGET THAT IS ICE-CREAM! Too bad I did not do a taste test, however, for this one I chose to not do a secondary stage. For this target the initial impressions and initial stage were good and the signal was for the target image (unless of course the same problem as before just that by luck 1 in 5 it this time went to the correct image).

5:27 PM End notes. I will do the next one right now, the Noetic site sets us up for a minimum of 5 consecutive tests like this. I know that time in between sessions is important, but let's see what happens without the 30 minute feedback stage and 1 hour in between, the worst that can happen is that the following sessions see entanglement and contamination but that effect would go away with some time before the next session after that so it is not permanent damage in that case, as far as I can tell. I am feeling real excited about this target and I think that it went really well!

5:28 PM End notes.
