Noetic Target 18
Today March 15 2019
Start 7:47 PM

Location: sofa, living room, apartment in Sweden. Quiet, calm undisturbed.

Ice. Sharp leaning diagonal ice. A sharp serrated sawtooth rope that we can climb up on, is color beige light orange, is in the vertical. This feels like a stagnant place, like nothing is moving or happening here.

A wooden bowl leaning diagonally is from the floor up toward the left. Nothing breathes or lives here. We can climb up on the rope.

One small red item in the center. The blue sinks down on the floor or as the floor.

7:56 PM Pause to watch a tv show with a friend.
March 15-16 2019, 1:18 AM Resume

Secondary stage.

Probe serrated diagonal: White feathers.

1:19 AM End session. This started out as a fantastic initial stage but it is too late in the night and I need to go to bed so I leave it to be graded on initial stage only, too bad since this one was really very promising, I do not know of a way to save this session for tomorrow.

Feedback: The serrated may have been the mane or tail of the horses. The brown wooden flat bowl looks like the buttocks of the larger horse. This target would have been great fun to take into the secondary and third stages, but no time. Good night.

1:23 AM End notes.
